

WHERE I STAND

Jett Prescott

Fool me once I'm wounded
Fool me twice I can't let go
Tell me what you're thinking
I think I already know

Cause now I see right through you
Now I see right through you

Hiding in my shadow
Underneath the window
Another jewel in your crown (I found)
Will you ever come around

Cause now I see right through you
Now I see right through you

I know, yeah I know it's not alright - but I won't, no I won't go through this anymore
These days are growing cold, we're getting older, ohhh
At least I know where I stand
Yeah, now I know where I stand

Tell me lies and lie again
Yeah, you know I'll believe it
You're drowning shallow, falling in
I'll watch you from the deep end, yeah...

Cause now I see right through you
Now I see right through you

I know, yeah I know it's not alright - but I won't, no I won't go through this anymore
These days are growing cold, we're getting older, ohhh
At least I know where I stand
Yeah, now I know where I stand

Yeah, now I see right through you
Yeah, now I see right through you
At least I know where I stand
At least I know where I stand
